Introduction to Parents

Big Bird's Hide and Speak is the first talking game for the Nintendo Entertainment System. Sesame Street is the setting for this memory, letter recognition and simple spelling game. Big Bird and his friends Little Bird, Grover, Elmo, Bert, Ernie and The Count invite your child to participate in several exciting activities.

Big Bird and Little Bird gently guide your child through six games that increase in difficulty. Your child can play matching and hiding games with Sesame Street friends and letters of the alphabet. Children can also make words with Big Bird's help or form as many words as possible before the sun sets for the evening on Sesame Street.

Big Bird's Hide and Speak is designed especially for young children. You only need to use two keys. Show your child how the big black button moves Little Bird from choice to choice. Any arrow will move him from window to window. Then, press either red button when Little Bird is perched on the window ledge of your choice. Big Bird is always there to talk with your child and offer encouragement and hints.

Children will love talking with Big Bird and playing with his pals as they practice basic skills and have fun at the same time!

How To Play

Game One: Find Your Sesame Street Pal

Here come Big Bird's pals: Ernie, Bert, Elmo, Grover and The Count. They all run into the house and look out of their windows. Listen to Big Bird as he tells you which friend to find.

Note to Parents: Find Your Sesame Street Pal lets your child have fun while introducing the games on Big Bird's Hide and Speak. Use this game to show your child how the games are played. Press the Big Black Button to move Little Bird. Then, press either Red Button when Little Bird is sitting on the correct window ledge.

In games one, two, three and four, a round consists of four questions. Big Bird will cheer your child on when the answer is correct. He will gently prompt your child to find the correct answer when the response is incorrect. When all four questions are answered correctly, a Sesame Street pal will delight your child with his zany antics!

Game Two: Play Hide and Seek on Sesame Street

Uh, oh. Your Sesame Street friends are really acting silly this time! Big Bird's friends run into the house. One by one, they open their window shades. Big Bird says their names. Then, all the windows close! Can you remember where each one is hiding? Help Big Bird find his pals. Listen to Big Bird as he tells you who to find.

Note to Parents: Play Hide and Seek on Sesame Street encourages children to practice memory skills as they try to remember where Big Bird's pals are hiding. If your child experiences difficulty remembering the location of each character, talk about the characters while they still are on the screen. Then, as they disappear, say, "There goes Elmo." Or, "Say good-bye to The Count!" This additional clue may help your child remember each character's location.

Game Three: Find the Letter

When the windows open this time, each one of Big Bird's friends is holding a letter. Look carefully. Which letters do you see in the windows? Listen to Big Bird as he tells you which letter to find.

Note to Parents: In Find the Letter, children practice letter recognition. They match spoken letter names with letters on the screen. Help your child recognize the letters by saying each one aloud. Have your child repeat the letter names as you say each one.

Game Four: Play Letter Hide and Seek

Those Sesame Street characters are at it again! Big Bird's friends run back into the house. This time, they each have a letter. One by one, they open their window shades. Big Bird says the name of each letter. Then, all the windows close! Can you remember where each letter is hiding? Listen to Big Bird as he tells you which letter to find.

Note to Parents: In Play Letter Hide and Seek, children combine memory skills with letter recognition. They must remember where each letter is hiding. Help your child by talking about the letters and characters as they are displayed on the screen. For example; say, "Look, there's Elmo holding the letter g." Or, "There's Ernie with the letter p." This may help your child remember the location of each character and his letter.

Game Five: Make A Word with Big Bird!

Big Bird needs your help to make words. Each of your Sesame Street pals is holding a letter. Listen to Big Bird as he tells you which word to spell. Make a word by putting three letters together in the correct order.

Note to Parents: In Make A Word With Big Bird!, your child combines three letters to make a word. To form words, your child matches a spoken letter name with a printed letter. In this game, Big Bird will call out the letters one by one and cheer your child on when the word is spelled correctly. If your child chooses the incorrect letter, Big Bird will prompt your child to find the right one. When the word is spelled correctly, a Sesame Street pal will delight your child with funny animations.

Game Six: How Many Words?

The sun is setting on another fun-filled day on Sesame Street. Before Big Bird says good night, he has one more job for you. It's a spelling game! How many three letter words can you make before the sun goes down?

Note to Parents: In How Many Words?, your child spells as many three letter words as possible within a time limit. When your child makes a word correctly, Big Bird spells it out. The correct word moves up into the sky so that your child can spell a new word. When the sun sets, Big Bird reads all of the words that your child has made. Help your child get started by suggesting letters to use to begin a word.
