FFQ (FREQUENT FARMING QUESTIONS)

I gave flowers to a woman who is not a potential bride and she likes me. Can I marry her instead?

Nope. You can give gifts to everyone in the game, but there are only three marriage prospects. Hearts in the dialogue of potential brides indicate what they love.

Marriage is yucky and the only chicks that I like here are the chickens. Do I have to do it?

Certainly not but your game will end before Chapter 2. If you want to play further, get out of the chicken coop and tie the knot! The woman with the most hearts in her diary will find you if you don't propose by the end of the first year.

I proposed and now her diary lost a heart. What did I do wrong?

Timing is everything. Give gifts and don't propose until you see plenty of hearts or wait until the end of the year and let her come to you.

I hug and feed my horse daily and now he's all stressed out!

Like other livestock, your horse needs fresh air and exercise. Ride him outside on sunny days.

Can I mix cow breeds? For example, can I raise offspring from a Brown cow and a Star Bull?

Yes. You don't have to pair cattle according to breeds. It's fun to experiment.

Does my bride's personality influence the type of child we raise?

Yes. Nami's child will be quiet and shy. Muffy's child will be happy and giggly. Celia's child will be down-to-earth like his mom.

How many career paths are available for my son?

Depending on how many neighbors you befriend, your son may have up to six choices.

I want to make quick money early in the game. Where is the best spot to catch rare fish?

Don't wait around for the rarest fish. You'll find schools of valuable catches beneath the waterfall by the archeology site.

HARDWARE FACTS

You'll find a collection of free tools inside your tool shed. The only problem is that all of these heavy tools were made for Takakura and toiling too long taps your precious energy. Buy equipment in your size by placing orders in the food storage room ledger.

HOE, HEW, HYDRATE

HEAVY HOE
STARTING ITEM

Takakura's Heavy Hoe is in the tool shed and he'll loan it to you, but it weighs almost as much as you do. Conserve your energy by buying a Light Hoe.

HOE
ORDER - 800G

One affordable alternative is the medium Hoe. It costs 800G and won't drain as much energy as the Heavy Hoe or require as much cash as the Light Hoe.

LIGHT HOE
ORDER - 1000G

If you can part with 1000G, the Light Hoe is the perfect tool for tilling big fields on the first day of a new season. Order it from Takakura's ledger.

WATER CAN S
STARTING ITEM

This is the smallest Water Can, which probably explains why it is free. Look for it in the tool shed. It holds enough water to saturate 35 field squares.

WATER CAN L
ORDER - 750G

You can order the Water Can L from Takakura for 750G. It might seem expensive, but the expanded capacity holds enough water to dampen 140 field squares.

HEAVY SICKLE
STARTING ITEM

This Heavy Sickle once belonged to Takakura and he'll gladly loan it to you. Use it sparingly because the excess weight will quickly drain your energy.

LIGHT SICKLE
ORDER - 750G

The Light Sickle is the easiest tool for cutting grass for your livestock and requires little energy to use. You can order it from Takakura for 750G.

WOOL SHEARS
ORDER - 400G

Wool Shears are an affordable tool for trimming the fleece from sheep. You can order it from Takakura for 400G but don't buy it until you need it.

BRUSH
FROM VAN - 500G

The Brush is essential for keeping your cow and horse clean and happy. Buy it early in the game from Van before you run low on cash. It costs 500G.

FISHING POLE
FROM VAN - 500G

Paying Van 500G for a fishing pole might seem like a big chunk of change, but you'll quickly turn a profit by selling back the fish that you catch.

A good farmer is always prepared for emergencies! Ordering items takes at least a day, so it's important to plan ahead. It's a good idea to have a spare dose of animal medicine or an extra sack of bird seed available before you need it.

TIP!

COOKS, HOOKS & HISTORY BOOKS

The farming life isn't all tilling, planting and feeding. Every farmer has his free time, but you need to know how to use these leisure moments wisely to replenish your energy and line your pocketbook.

AN APPETITE FOR COOKING

Grazing on herbs will replenish a little energy but you need a real meal to regain full strength. Luckily Takakura built you a complete kitchen. So stand back—the master chef is in the house!

You start out with options for preparing soups and salads. Choose your meal then pick the ingredients from the items in your inventory. Tomatoes are versatile ingredients for many meals.

Don't settle for the same old boring culinary routine. Snoop around your neighbor's kitchens and find a recipe or two. New recipes can prolong your stamina by filling you up longer between meals than an ordinary soup or salad.

TIP:

TIGHT LINES

One of the best initial purchases you can make is the fishing pole. Buy it from Van for 500G. You can fish whenever you have a spare moment and either eat or sell your finned finds.

18

DIGGING THE PAST

Carter digs extra help at his covered pit and even furnishes research equipment. You can keep any old coins or strange fossils that you find. This is a great way to make money on a rainy day.

NEW BEGINNINGS

Hold it greenhorn! Take a moment to review the basics about starting a farm before you trot off with that hoe and hurt someone. It might save you time and even prevent a mess or two!

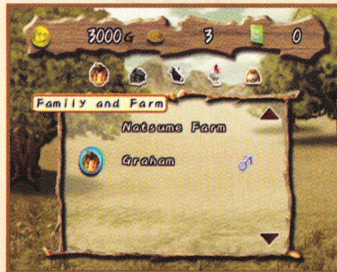

NAME YOUR CHARACTER

As Takakura gives you a guided tour of your farm and the immediate surroundings he'll ask you to name your dog and cow. Then he'll ask you what you want people to call you. It's a long life. Choose names that appeal to you.

DEAR DIARY...

Sleep, save your game and check your farm status by looking at the green diary next to your bed. It's a good idea to save your game every night, especially if you offend a bride-to-be and later want to take back what you said.

CHECK YOUR GAME STATUS

The Status Book is frequently overlooked by new farmers but old hands rely on it to see the big picture of their farming venture. This trusted tome lists a summary of your pets, feed, money, animals, fertilizer and buildings.

If you have a new game card you'll have enough memory space to save the progress of two Harvest Moon: A Wonderful Life games, making it easy to share with a friend... or at least keep your sister or brother from ruining your hard work!

TIP:

3

LIFE BY CHAPTER

A GAME, A LIFETIME...

Your father always wanted to be a farmer. Years ago he bought a farm with his best friend Takakura but never lived long enough to fulfill his dreams. Did the same calling draw you to Forget-Me-Not Valley? Or did you want to escape your dreary urban life? Maybe the real reason is that you wanted to know your father. Takakura can teach you about farming, but it's up to you to find your own path.

FARMING FOR PROFIT

NOT AN EASY LIVING

Farming certainly isn't about sitting back and watching the grass grow. You're constantly planting, feeding, watering or buying equipment. If you find a spare moment, check out the local dating scene. Takakura can give you advice on all things not related to love.

SEBASTIAN ROMANA'S VILLA

Sebastian is the elderly butler who has looked after Romana for decades. He's treated more like a family member than an employed household servant.

LUMINA ROMANA'S VILLA

Lumina is too young to marry but if she could she might marry you. She loves Grandmother Romana but it's difficult to live up to high expectations.

VESTA VESTA'S FARM

"Subtle" isn't in Vesta's vocabulary. This rugged and successful farmer won't waste time on fragile diplomacy--especially when it comes to marrying off Celia.

MARLIN VESTA'S FARM

Vesta's outspoken brother is learning to be an agricultural expert. He moved to the valley for the healthy lifestyle and doesn't mind hard work.

CELIA VESTA'S FARM

Compassionate for people and animals, Celia is the perfect counterbalance to Vesta's overbearing personality. She loves plants--especially flowers.

KASSEY PYROTECHNICIAN

Kassey is the world's greatest pyrotechnician. He lives inside an elevated house down the hill near the beach. Don't confuse him with his twin, Patrick.

PATRICK PYROTECHNICIAN

Patrick is the world's second-greatest pyrotechnician. He looks like his twin Kassey, but most people know to look for the patch on the back of his pants.

DARYL CRAZY SCIENTIST

Eccentric Daryl came to the valley to conduct scientific research but he might be staying for the river's big smelt. His lab is behind the Blue Bar.

CARTER CARTER'S DIG

Dr. Carter lives in a tent next to his archeological dig near the waterfall. He's always looking for help and will even let you keep a few of your finds.

FLORA CARTER'S DIG

Flora is Dr. Carter's assistant and stays with him in the tent. Outsiders might consider this scandalous, but Flora remains dedicated to her research.

GUSTAFA GUSTAFA'S YURT

Easy-going Gustafa lives in a yurt near the beach. This guitar-strumming poet has a positive word for everyone in the valley at his awesome summer gigs.

DR. HARDY HOUSES

Distinguished Dr. Hardy is Romana's physician. He looks after her during his daily rounds and always offers healthy advice to anyone willing to listen.

VAN BESIDE INNER INN

Van is a portly traveling merchant who makes rounds throughout local farming villages. He's always willing to buy anything you sell for a fair price.

CODY CODY'S STUDIO

Cody is the resident artist in town. He can often be seen wandering town in search of artistic inspiration.

Just like real life, folks come and go in town as you progress through chapters. You'll meet new neighbors and other folks as you grow and your farm prospers. Win friends by giving gifts or offering special marketplace discounts.

TOWNSFOLK

Farming success doesn't just depend on what you know. Some lucky breaks depend on who you know. These two pages give you a brief glimpse of a handful of unique personalities and future friends living in Forget-Me-Not Valley.

CHAPTER 1 CAST OF CHARACTERS

	TIM INNER INN	Co-owner of the Inner Inn, Tim enjoys sampling meals prepared for guests. His wife often travels to Mineral Town, leaving him alone to watch the main lobby.
	RUBY INNER INN	Ruby is co-owner of the Inner Inn and an outstanding chef. People attribute the secret spice in her tasty meals as one key factor to her success.
	ROCK INNER INN	Easy-going party boy Rock is Tim and Ruby's son. You can often find him down along the beach in the evenings.
	NAMI ♥ INNER INN	Like Tim and Ruby, Nami is a world traveler who stopped in Forget-Me-Not Valley and forgot to leave. She will certainly depart if you don't marry her.
	GALEN HOUSES	Galen moved to Forget-Me-Not Valley to retire from city life, but he admits he's bored. He lives with Nina in a small cottage across from the Blue Bar.
	NINA HOUSES	Nina is Galen's wife and insists on living in Forget-Me-Not Valley for the remainder of her years. She always perks up whenever someone gives her produce.
	CHRIS HOUSES	Always cheerful, Chris is married to Wally and commutes daily to work. She loves flowers and will often buy one from your produce stand.
	WALLY HOUSES	Wally is an upwardly-mobile fitness fanatic who spends his entire day monitoring his stopwatch. You'll find him jogging around or working out in his gym.
	HUGH HOUSES	Hugh is the son of Chris and Wally. When he has the stamina he's often working out with his dad. Hugh often spends his rest breaks near the forest spring.
	GRIFFIN BLUE BAR	Super-suave Griffin is the proprietor of the Blue Bar and master mixologist for a wide range of energy-restoring drinks. He plays guitar in his spare time.
	MUFFY ♥ BLUE BAR	Muffy toils behind the counter of the Blue Bar and works her charm on eligible bachelors. She would love to marry the right man and raise a family.
	ROMANA ROMANA'S VILLA	Grandma Romana lives in a large manor high above Forget-Me-Not Valley. She dreams of her granddaughter Lumina playing better than any concert pianist.

THE DATING GAME

SOUL MATE QUEST

There are three potential brides-to-be in town and all have distinct personalities: One is shy and traditional, another is looking for a man and the third one is intelligent and anything but predictable. Choosing the best wife depends on your personality, so pick the one you like the most--before someone makes the choice for you!

RAISING KIDS

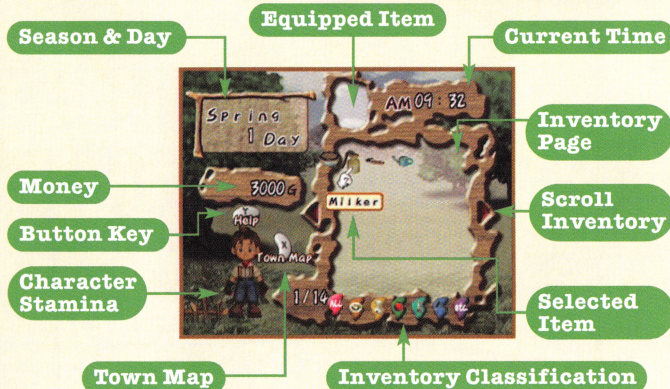

PASS THE DIAPERS AND MAX THE CHALLENGE!

After the first year you'll end up with a bride and a baby son. Will he inherit the farm? Will he grow into an unruly teenager? Will your nearby neighbors influence his career path? It depends on how you decide to apply your newfound parenting skills!

THE SCREEN SCENE

The work hasn't started but it's vital to know how to stop and take a break. Press START/PAUSE to stop the game clock and access the contents in your rucksack. Here you can switch tools and sort through your inventory.

SORTING OUT INVENTORY

You carry tools, produce and other essential items in your rucksack. Luckily for you it has the carrying capacity of a hay truck. Press the Control Stick to highlight contents in your rucksack or tap the L or R Buttons to scroll through the entire fourteen pages of gear. There's enough room for over 350 unique items!

Don't waste the day sitting around digging through your inventory! Press the X Button to select your quick access inventory and then tap the Control Stick to whirl between items in your food, tools and other farm item categories!

TIP!

THEN COMES MARRIAGE...

During your first summer you'll receive a rare blue feather. It's the traditional symbol for marriage but proposing too soon can ruin an engagement. Read these tips and a few diaries:

CELIA ♥

Vesta makes no secret about finding a match for this girl. Celia is compassionate and knowledgeable about crops and farming. She's a down-to-earth sweetie seeking an honest, hard-working guy.

To Win Her Heart:

Celia is a softy for flowers. Even if you forget once or twice Vesta might try to arrange a marriage for you. Celia's diary is on the bed above Vesta's room.

MUFFY ♥

Muffy is a flashy flirt who doesn't want to waste away polishing goblets at the Blue Bar. If you prefer a pretty face without a clue about farms, crops and animals, this is your match.

To Win Her Heart:

Flowers, flowers, flowers... Muffy likes pretty petals and nothing else except for Big Huchep fish. You can find her diary inside the colorful lamp at the Blue Bar.

NAMI ♥

Nami is potentially the smartest of your three prospects and she won't fall for cute lines or fancy flowers. You'll need to use your noggin to win the heart and mind of this worldly traveler.

To Win Her Heart:

Nami prefers autumn flowers so try to impress her with the fossils and statues from the archeology site. Her purple diary is on the desk in her room at the inn.

PROFIT MARGINS

Your farm won't grow unless you make money to buy improved tools, more seed and quality livestock, but there are a few money-making methods that work better than others. Outlined below are important tips for turning a profit.

ANIMALS FOR MONEY

While selling animals adds a big chunk of change to your budget, it's important to remember that your goal is to grow your farm—not sell off vital resources. Livestock are sad and unproductive when you sell their offspring, so resist cashing in unless you have few options and need emergency money.

CASH CROPS

Focus on raising your crops in your most fertile fields. Use fertilizer and plant trees in the least fertile soil. Crops are rated by letter: S-rated crops sell for the highest price.

OPEN SHOP

Van will buy everything you have but you can also try to sell your crops to townsfolk. Keep in mind that local customers are picky shoppers looking for deals and they never buy in bulk.

It's always faster and easier to sell your goods when Van is in town. Check the calendar in your house to determine when Van sets up shop. He usually announces when his shop is open and closed, so schedule shopping plans in advance.

TIP:

THE BUTTON GUIDE

In the upper right corner of the screen you'll see the time of day and a button diagram for your Nintendo GameCube Controller. Depending on where you're standing or what you're doing, words or symbols will appear on these buttons, allowing you to choose key commands for many tasks.

THE BUTTON BASICS

The Button Guide is a quick reference tool for accomplishing farm tasks and social interactions. You can disable the Button Guide using the Configure menu inside the bookshelf of your home, but the game will be difficult to play unless you finished the game before. Here are some command examples:

DOOR

HOW IT WORKS

Button commands appear on the Button Guide in the upper right corner as you approach a door, person or in this case, a cow. You can also change these button options by equipping tools or items.

Select items from your rucksack and equip them to change the Button Guide commands. The "Show" command is an important option in the game for learning likes and dislikes of townsfolk.

With the exception of carrying your son, the red B Button is almost universally used to cancel out of Button Guide commands. Most primary tool functions are assigned to the green A Button.

OUT AND ABOUT

Forget-Me-Not Valley is so big that it can take portion of a day to reach some destinations.

Plan your trips to save time by accessing the Town Map screen on the pause menu. The map below shows you residences in the first chapter. Other neighbors will move in later!

GREEN THUMB 101

Crops are a great source of revenue if you grow the right ones in the correct seasons. Some of your fields are more fertile than others but you can splurge on pricey fertilizer to help crops grow faster in nutrient-depleted soil.

COMMON SEEDS FOR SOWING

SEED TYPE	SEASON	COST
TOMATO	SPRING-FALL	30G
Tomatoes grow through the spring and summer seasons, but must be harvested before fall.
WATERMELON	SPRING-SUMMER	60G
Plant watermelons early in the spring and water them regularly until you pick them in the summer.
STRAWBERRY	FALL-SPRING	30G
Hardy strawberries grow from fall through spring, but wilt in the summer heat.
MELON	SUMMER-FALL	50G
Melons grow fast in the summer but must be harvested in the fall.
TURNIP	SUMMER-WINTER	20G
Fast-growing, affordable turnips prosper from summer to winter.
POTATO	WINTER-SPRING	40G
Potatoes are hardy enough to grow during the winter, but don't do as well in summer and fall.
CARROT	FALL-WINTER	30G
Carrots grow well in the cool fall and winter weather, but wither in the spring and summer.
SWEET POTATO	FALL ONLY	40G
Sweet Potatoes grow only in the fall so plant early in the season to harvest all of them.

This is a partial list of the crops you can grow and it's important to remember that each crop has a class. It's tough to find the best seeds for prized crops, but the challenging search for blue-ribbon winners is worth the effort.

TIP:

13

SOW, GROW, MOW

Most crops (not trees) only grow through two seasons each year but it's important to plant the seeds early during the first planting season in the most fertile soil available. Read on to learn key tips for harvesting the best bumper crops.

SPRING ➤ SUMMER ➤ FALL ➤ WINTER

THINK BIG, WATER OFTEN

The largest field in your farm is the most fertile. Concentrate your planting on the big plot and plant trees or profitable fertilized crops in the smaller fields. Check each type of crop seed to know when and where to plant it.

Use your hoe to till your field prior to planting. If you use fertilizer it's important to remember to place the fertilizer in the tilled earth prior to sowing the crop or tree seeds.

Unless you're planting in a downpour, allow time to water new seeds on the same day. Sprouts wilt quickly in dry soil, so make a daily trip or two to dampen furrows that appear light in color.

CROP CYCLES

New sprouts are extremely fragile so monitor soil color for moisture. Dark soil indicates damp dirt but light ground requires water. You may need to water twice a day during hot weather.

Crops flower prior to bearing fruit. At this stage the young plant is harder than a tender sprout, but it's important to water on a regular basis. Fertile soil can accelerate plant growth.

After flowering most crops grow green fruit. Green fruit has a slightly different color than ripe stuff, so use the "Look" command to determine if your crop needs additional time on the vine.

YOUR PLACE

Compared to most places in Forget-Me-Not Valley your farm is huge, but with wide open spaces come bushels of labor and responsibility. The diagrams below illustrate key landmarks for finding your way around your spread and abode. You'll add more as your farm expands!

THE FARM

YOUR HOUSE

Are you tired of listening to the same old tunes? Don't turn down the volume--change the music spinning on the phonograph in your house. You'll find a new record on a shelf in the Tool Shed. Use it on the phonograph to change your tune!

TIP:

YOUR BUILDINGS

THE BARN

Horses, cattle, sheep and goats live in the barn. It's the best place for them on rainy days. Collect feed from the fodder chute on the left wall. Check your fodder supply on the clipboard.

The chalkboard reports your animals' health at a glance. Most livestock remain healthy unless you forget to feed them or leave them in the rain. Buy medicine to cure common ailments.

THE TOOLSHED

The left wall of the tool shed holds tools. Until you buy your own you'll need to borrow Takakura's cumbersome tools. Expensive light tools work just as well but help conserve your energy.

The back wall features special tools for raising calves, including an isolation fence and a small stall to help protect new arrivals. All your cows need is a bull or a special potion.

The right tool shed wall features a special storage cabinet for seeds and other important items. In the summer you can order a seed making machine to cut costs and build your inventory.

CHICKEN COOP

The chicken coop provides shelter for chicks, chickens, ducklings and ducks. Happy fowl lay eggs daily and some prize birds even produce a golden egg or two. All you have to do is replenish the bird seed bin in the middle of the floor. Remember to buy a rooster if you want to raise your own flock. One serving of bird seed will last for several days depending on the size of your feathered flock.

FOOD STORAGE BUILDING

Drop your milk and eggs into the center storage bin for Takakura. He'll sell the produce and leave the money from the sales in the bin on the left. Don't forget to save some food for yourself!

The left bin displays Takakura's balance sheet for the farm, comparing your profits from produce and livestock sales against your expenses for feed, tools, animals and equipment.

Use the order sheet to spend your hard-earned cash on tools, feed, animals and farm improvements. To place an order, point the cursor on Takakura's head on the left bin display menu.

HERDS, FLOCKS & FLUFF

COWS

Because they can produce milk twice a day, cows are the biggest money maker's on the farm, but milk quantity and quality depends on how much feeding, brushing and attention they receive.

SHEEP

Easy-going sheep eat half as much as cows, but you can only trim their wool once per season. Pamper your sheep by washing their wool and they'll grow exceptionally valuable Golden Wool.

CHICKENS

Chickens require little more than a rooster and chicken feed to lay eggs daily, but relying on raising chicks for your coop may eventually result in a flustered flock of unproductive roosters.
